WOMEN WHO LEAD
The Call of Women in Ministry

Church leadership can be daunting. Especially for a woman. Pastoral and other leadership positions within the church are traditionally held by men, making it hard for many to recognize the validity of a woman in leadership. In this book, Mary Rearick Paul explores God's call on her life and the call of other women to ministry. Women Who Lead gives biblical and practical examples to show that God calls women as well as men into positions of leadership in the church and elsewhere.
